LOUISA PUTS UP $100,000 AND SITE FOR STATE NORMAL

Conditions Met and Our Application is in Hands of the Commission.

Louisa has met the requirements of the law and the construction put upon it by the commission for the location of the Eastern Kentucky Normal School. These conditions are $100,000 donation and a suitable and acceptable site.

A delegation of 11 Louisa men went to Lexington and appeared before the commission on Wednesday, presenting Louisa's claims.

The commission has fixed June 16 to meet in Louisville at which time they expect to make either a final decision or arrange to visit the various applicant towns. It seems that they have been and probably yet are inclined to make the location without seeing the towns. Louisa extended a pressing invitation to visit here.

Five cities and towns presented their claims at Lexington. They were Paintsville, Louisa, Ashland, West Liberty and Morehead. Each place was given one hour in which to present its case. There was a good deal of good natured rivalry and friendly thrusts during the hearing and the entire five hours proved to be quite interesting.

Paintsville's claims were presented by Fred A. Vaughan, W. B. Ward and Mrs. H. F. Roberts.

Ashland J. W. M. Stewart, Robt. Caldwell, E. H. Gartrell and B. E. Forsey.

Louisa, Col. Jay H. Northup, F. H. Yates, Dr. T. D. Burgess and M. F. Conley.

West Liberty, L. A. Redwine, Walter Gardner, and Morgan County Superintendent of Schools and the County Farm Agent.

Morehead, Sam Bradley, S. S. Casady and the Christian church pastor.

Many of the delegates expressed some doubt as to all of these towns having qualified, but there is no doubt about Louisa and Ashland having met the conditions. Paintsville announced that they hoped to be able to offer the Jno. C. C. Mayo College property later, but this was given only as a possibility. Their donations total about $80,000. Ashland and Catlettsburg offered a site off of the Garrett estate near Cliffside. Morehead offered the Christian school property but no money. They estimate the three frame buildings and one brick structure, with furnishings, to be worth $100,000 or more. West Liberty offered $75,000 and the use of a high school building and dormitory.

The hearing was public and a large crowd was present.

The Louisa delegates who went to Lexington were Col. Jay H. Northup, F. H. Yates, Dr. T. D. Burgess, J. H. Woods, H. H. Queen, W. E. Queen, Augustus Snyder, W. H. Adams, G. R. Vinson, E. E. Shannon and M. F. Conley.

Louisa's Successful Drive.

The biggest thing that Louisa and Lawrence county has ever done was accomplished last Monday and Tuesday, when $100,000 was raised for the donation to the Eastern Kentucky Normal School and ample land procured for a site.

All this was done within 18 hours. No subscriptions were taken until Monday morning of this week.

The plan which solved the big problem was suggested by Mr. F. H. Yates and it worked out admirably. He secured options from Phillip Preece and E. E. Shannon, and Col. Northup donated 16 acres of adjacent land. The plan was based upon lot sales and it worked like a charm. Nearly everybody who is able and who could be seen, joined heartily in the scheme. There are only a few slackers.

Soliciting committees went out Monday morning and when a public meeting in the court house was called to order at 10 o'clock the committees had raised $121,000. The canvass was continued until the entire amount needed was raised. The soliciting committees were F. H. Yates, Dr. T. D. Burgess, Dr. W. W. Wray, Aug. Snyder, H. H. Queen, W. E. Queen, W. H. Adams, M. F. Conley and Jas. H. Woods.

In addition to his land donation Col. Jay H. Northup subscribed $5000. Phillip Preece is the largest subscriber to the plan, his amount being $25,000. F. H. Yates takes $5,000.

A total of 143 persons subscribed. The meeting in the court house was presided over by F. H. Yates, who stated clearly the details of the plan. Short talks were made by several persons and there was great enthusiasm. Everybody saw the feasibility of the plan proposed by Mr. Yates and he is being congratulated on all sides for the resourcefulness shown in solving this big problem. Numbers of citizens joined heartily in the work. We would like to mention all who helped, and probably shall publish the list of subscribers a little later.

Arrangements are being made to provide temporary quarters for the Eastern Kentucky Normal and offer them at once to the commission.

State Police Member Killed in Accident

Private Howard A. Deem, of the state police force was killed, Mrs. R. H. Stine, of Welch, was dangerously hurt and James Hall and Miss Maggie Hatfield, of Matewan, were more or less painfully injured when on last Saturday about six in the evening an automobile in which they were being driven to Matewan went over an almost perpendicular declivity on the Matewan road about two miles east of Williamson, and directly opposite Leckieville.

The car, a new Maxwell was driven by H. F. Hope its owner, who is a taxi driver of Matewan. Private Deem occupied the front seat with him and Mr. Hall and the two ladies sat on the rear seat.

As the machine rounded the curve opposite Leckieville it left the road, ran down the hillside a short distance then rolled over and over a distance of more than 100 feet and did not stop till it struck the Norfolk & Western railway track. Only two of the five—Officer Deem and Mrs. Stine—were carried the entire distance by the machine.

Private Deem sustained fractures of the skull, and died a few minutes after reaching the track.

He was 24 years of age and unmarried. He enlisted March 3, 1921. His father is night watchman for the Stone Mountain Coal Co., and stays at Matewan. His mother lives at Parsons, W. Va.

He was sent here Saturday to join Private Swift, Inscore and Dye in making a moonshine raid which they carried out. He reported at 4:30, and was under orders to take train No. 16 for Matewan. For some reason he chose to join the automobile party, with tragic ending.—Williamson News

D. BROWN SAILS FOR RUSSIA

A letter from Dave Brown which was written in New York last Sunday says he will sail June 10 on the steamship New York on the Black Sea line for Constantinople. He expects to reach there in eighteen or twenty days and at that point get permit to travel on to Odessa which will require two days more.

He was delayed in New York getting the passports and finds that to get in and out of Russia now is a much more difficult proposition than when he left there thirty-eight years ago. While waiting in New York he received a letter stating that eight more of his near relatives had passed away on account of starvation, his brother, sister, brother-in-law and their children. They had not had a meal for days and no bread in their houses for weeks.

Mr. Brown lived in Louisa some years ago and moved from here to Williamson where he is a prosperous merchant.

ASHLAND OUT OF CONTEST FOR STATE NORMAL SCHOOL

Terms Indicated by Chairman Can Not Be Met By That City.

Just before going to press we learn by wire that Ashland and Catlettsburg have withdrawn from the contest for the State Normal School.

This action came as the result of the report made to the Chamber of Commerce by its committee that went to Lexington Wednesday. It was due to the attitude of the commission on two points, as indicated in the proceedings and announcements.

One point is that the commission will not visit the applicant cities. The other is in regard to putting at the disposal of the State by next September a building or buildings in which to start the school then. Ashland can not construct new buildings in time, they say.

A FISHING PARTY.

A fishing party went to Gallup early on Tuesday morning of this week to spend the day. They took lunch which was spread on the lawn at J. H. McClure's. How many fish did they catch? We will tell you later. Before leaving they took orders for a large amount of fish.

In the evening they had a chance to start back on a gasoline boat which was chartered by Dr. Wray, who had been up to see a patient. Feeling sure the train would be late (which it wasn't) they came on the boat. Along about Walbridge the gasoline gave out so the "happy picnic party" proceeded to walk to town, a distance of three miles, reaching here about 10 p. m.

In the fifteen hours two fish were caught, each member of the party claiming the honor. Those who ordered fish were at the depot to meet the train and were greatly disappointed when neither the fish nor the parties arrived. In spite of all these things the outing was very much enjoyed so they say. It was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander of Huntington, the others being Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Atkins and son Jack, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Justice and sons Earl and Arthur, Mrs. W. J. Heeter and Mrs. D. C. Spencer.

Vinson Memorial Dedicated Sunday

The dedication of Vinson Memorial church on a spot of the Old Homestead at West Moreland, W. Va., was a ceremonial as devout in its simplicity and neighborliness as it was in the solemn consecration of the edifice itself to the Lord for the use of those who would serve Him, says the Huntington Herald Dispatch.

The house, shapely without and finely adorned within stands just between the city and the country. As far as the surroundings tell, it might be rural or it might be urban.

This occasion called from far and wide hundreds who, by reason of ties of blood or friendly associations, have occasion fondly to remember the man and woman whose lives are commemorated in the edifice.

The formal devotions which transferred Vinson Memorial church to the realm of things sacred, were impressive and beautiful, and in full measure fitting the illustrious names it was pledged to perpetuate. Outwardly the affair took on the aspect of a family reunion. There was a feast magnificently spread, and the hundreds present were treated with the traditional hospitality which still clings to the ancient homestead in the orchard and in its maze of rose bushes and flower beds. The crowd, which numbered many hundreds ranged in ages all the way from men and women in the eighties, to infants in arms. Handshakings, familiar greetings and delighted expressions, marked the reunion feature, and city folk got a most favorable impression of country folk, while country folk found that city folk can be just as nice as anybody else.

From the beginning of the dedication service early in the forenoon until the final scene at mid-afternoon, the main body of the new church was crowded with people intent upon the ceremonies.

A panel on the front of the church facing the highway, bears this simple inscription:

"In Memory of S. S. and Mary Vinson."

The daughters and sons of Mr. and Mrs. Vinson are Mrs. James A. Hughes, Mrs. Donald Clark, Z. H. and Lindsey Vinson, all of Huntington. The church is a gift from them to the Christian church.

Relatives who went from Louisa were Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Vinson, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Vinson, Jim Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Vinson and Miss Helen Vinson, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Vinson and son Robert, Mr. and Mrs. James Vinson and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Atkinson, Mrs. V. Peters and Miss Virginia Hager.

Dr. Blair's Funeral Held at Morehead

The body of Dr. Frederick K. Blair, 22, today rests beneath the cover covered sod in the family burying ground at Morehead. The funeral burial Thursday by the Blue L. the Knights Templar, the Eastern and the American Legion will be remembered as one of the great testimonials to the worth of a man that Eastern Kentucky has seen.

Dr. Blair, who was connected with the Ashland General Hospital, far, nose and throat specialist, who was popularly known by his surnames in this section, died in a bi-Tuesday night from heart disease after having suffered since he came out of years' service in France during the war and had known for several weeks that he could not recover.

The body was taken to Morehead and lay in state at the home of Harlan Blair, a cousin. Morehead was doctor Blair's home and the scene of his practice after he was graduated from a medical school. His townspeople turned out en masse to pay their last respects. No funeral in recent years has drawn so many people.

The funeral took place at the Blair home. A quartet sang three numbers after which there was a scripture reading by the Rev. Mr. Irvin, pastor of the Christian church of Morehead. Then the Rev. Mr. Paul S. Powell, pastor of Dr. Blair's church, the First Methodist Episcopal, South, of Ashland, read a sketch of the young physician's life and work and offered prayer. He was followed by the Rev. Dr. D. W. Scott, pastor of the First Christian church of Ashland who preached the funeral sermon.

The full Masonic ritual was carried out at the grave. The Clarence Post, American Legion, had sent its firing squad under command of Capt. John Mills. The squad fired at salute over the grave and then the buglers sounded taps.

Dr. A. L. Blair and Mrs. Blair, parents of the dead young man; Mrs. Fred K. Blair, the widow, and F. M. Blair, an uncle, all of Ashland, came to this city after the burial. A score or more of Ashland friends attended the funeral and burial. Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Garrod of Louisa also attended.—Ashland Independent.
